Lisbon Recognition Convention

Lisbon Recognition Convention has got its subsidiary documents clarifying its provisions

One of the subsidiary documents is “Recommendation on the Use of Qualifications Frameworks in the Recognition of Foreign Qualifications” adopted in Split in 2013

Legislation Framework in Bosnia and Herzegovina

12 regulations on recognition

ENIC BiH based on its competences issues in 2014 Recommendations on the Use of Qualifications Frameworks in the Procedure of the Recognition of Foreign Higher Education Qualifications in Bosnia and Herzegovina (Official Gazette of Bosnia and Herzegovina, No. 81/14)

Legislation Framework in Bosnia and Herzegovina

If a National Qualifications Framework has been referenced, there is an assumption that the individual qualifications included in the framework by the competent authority are quality assured. Therefore as a general rule there is no need for the recognition authority to investigate the quality of the qualification.

It is recommended to the competent recognition authorities of Bosnia and Herzegovina, in case of a qualification issued in previous education systems, prior to adoption of the national qualifications framework of the country in which the qualification was obtained, to establish whether such qualification is included in the National Qualifications Framework.

Answer from from the Belgian ENIC/NARIC

What is the level of the attached qualification?

Diplôme d'études approfondies: it is a post “master” degree corresponding at the time to a 3rd cycle level. It is typically a qualification allowing or facilitating access to PhD studies. So you can consider it as a master level.

What is the official duration of the study program?

Diplôme d'études approfondies: usually one year of studies.
